

21 April 2015

The Honourable Eric Hoskins, MD,
Minister of Health and Long Term Care
10th Floor, Hepburn Block
80 Grosvenor Street
Toronto, ON M7A 2C4
By email: ehoskins.mpp.co@liberal.ola.org

Re: Severance of Land from the Central Experimental Farm (CEF) National Historic Site for the Civic Hospital Campus

Dear Minister Hoskins,

As you are no doubt aware, the Government of Canada recently offered a 60-acre parcel of the Central Experimental Farm National Historic Site of Canada (NHS) to the Ottawa Hospital for the purposes of constructing a new site for the Civic Campus. This letter does not dispute the issue of new facilities. Rather, I am questioning the proposed location, and I am wondering if the severe impacts to a significant place have been weighed in the balance. Right now, I am asking you to do just that.

As a national historic site, the CEF is a place that has been identified for its importance to all Canadians. In a very real sense, it belongs to all Canadians, coast to coast to coast, and is part of this generation's legacy to our children. It was designated as a significant scientific cultural landscape, and as a centre for scientific advances which has benefited Canada, and continues to benefit Canada. Clearly if it is chopped up, it will lose those qualities that made it an historic site. Only sixty acres we are told: it doesn't take a crystal ball to see where this is going.

As well, the CEF is a nationally significant research centre, founded in 1886 by Sir John A Macdonald, to support agricultural science in a new country. To this day, the CEF is an open-air laboratory focussed on long-term experiments in agriculture. One cannot overstate the importance of agriculture to Canada's

2 DALY AVENUE / 2, AVENUE DALY, OTTAWA, ON K1N 6E2 (613) 230-8841

www.heritageottawa.org info@heritageottawa.org

economy, and to the well-being of each and every one of us in terms of our long term health and future welfare. Others can speak more authoritatively on the scientific significance of the CEF, but Agriculture Canada's own website characterises the farm as: [the Central Experimental Farm] "leads Eastern Canada ... in crop development, targeting corn, soy, spring wheat, winter wheat, oats and barley. The Centre has been at the forefront of pioneering gene isolation, gene transfer, and studying gene expression in crop plants for the last 25 years..."

We have been told that 60 acres is only 6% of the total area of the Farm. But this is closer to 15 to 20 % of the total usable crop research area. That's a significant impact on an institution dedicated to scientific research in the pursuit of better lives for Canadians. Representing the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care, and as a scientist yourself, I am certain you can appreciate the importance of the historic and ongoing research undertaken at the CEF, and its impact on the health and well-being of Canadians.

Perhaps if your Ministry could explain for itself its intentions for new hospital facilities in the Ottawa area, we would all be better informed. Your Ministry does not appear to have expressed itself publicly on this issue. Given that there are a selection of excellent sites in the national capital region for a new hospital, can you please spell out for us what the Province's intentions are for a new hospital here?

We have been assured that the CEF is not for sale and the land is only being leased, but this is a rather specious assertion, for once removed from its intended use it can never be recovered for its original purpose or fulfill its original designation.

I am looking forward to your response,

Yours sincerely,

Leslie Maitland, M. Mus., CAHP
President, Heritage Ottawa

Copied to:

The Hon. Jeff Leal, Minister, Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs (jleal.mpp.co@liberal.ola.org)

The Hon. Michael Coteau, Minister, Tourism, Culture and Recreation (coteau.mpp.co@liberal.ola.org)

The Hon. Pierre Poilievre, P.C., M.P., Minister Responsible for the National Capital Commission
(info@pco-bcp.gc.ca)

Dr. Mark Kristmanson, CEO, National Capital Commission

Alan Latourelle, CEO, Parks Canada Agency

Mayor Jim Watson

Chris Wiebe, Chair, Central Experimental Farm Advisory Committee

Natalie Bull, Executive Director, Heritage Canada National Trust

Dr. Kitts, CEO, Ottawa Hospital

Greenspace Alliance for Canada's Capital